

I feel like I have failed

Poem by Brian Hill (btalex1990 AT yahoo) Hope you like my poem, it comes from my heart, and soul

What is wrong with me, what is wrong with me
Have I fallen into the darkness and hid myself in evilness I tried to protect her, but I failed her and now she hates me, she so hates me I wanted to kill myself several times but I resisted
I am a coward, I hid in the darkness there is no life for me, I am only meant to suffer
I still love her, but my heart is very weak I've become such a wreck, that love is the only thing I seek but it still haunts me, the misery.
she made her choice, she will never love me I tried to protect her from dangerous people, but I have failed.
she's gonna suffer and die thanks to me
I will never be at peace until she forgives me

I still love you Rachael, I hope you will forgive me someday.

I'm sorry if you thought I was a stalker, I had no intentions of stalking you, only to protect you.

I'm sorry I am such failure and Now I will suffer like a monster

Maybe someday she will see this when I am dead cause I am polluted, and my mind feels with dread.

say goodbye to me, I am in darkness, no one will ever love me.

and my heart will turn to stone, and I will continue to suffer.

I deserve to suffer and be punished and mistreated, I have no goodness in me.

I was never meant to love or be loved

I am sorry Rachael the Good Brian is gone forever

there only remains my suffering
